The External Affairs Ministry has advised Indian citizens not to commence the Kailash Mansarovar Yatra until they have obtained all the required travel documents for the complete journey. The Ministry has issued the advisory after receiving requests for assistance from Indian pilgrims stranded in Nepal while undertaking the Yatra through private tour operators.

“The External Affairs Ministry said that some Indian citizens undertaking the Kailash Mansarovar Yatra through private tour operators travelled to Nepal without obtaining the mandatory entry permit and visa required for entering China. As a result, several pilgrims have been stranded and sought assistance from the Ministry. It advised pilgrims not to begin the Yatra without confirmed travel documents, saying that travelling in anticipation of obtaining the necessary permits could lead to difficulties during the journey. The Ministry has also urged pilgrims to verify that their tour operator is duly registered and authorised before undertaking the pilgrimage. The advisory aims to ensure a safe and hassle-free pilgrimage and prevent inconvenience to devotees. With Rohan, Ankit Kumar, Akashvani News, Delhi.”

The Defence Ministry has clarified that reports circulating in sections of the media claiming that the supreme sacrifice of six bravehearts during Operation Sindoor has been acknowledged publicly for the first time only recently are factually incorrect. The Ministry said the nation had paid homage to the fallen soldiers at the earliest opportunity. It said the then Director General of Military Operations had paid tribute to the six bravehearts during the official press conference on May 11 last year. The soldiers were also conferred gallantry awards. It added that the Indian Army's official social media platforms had also carried tributes to the bravehearts.

The US military has said it struck multiple targets in Iran for the second consecutive day at the direction of President Donald Trump, as a fragile ceasefire came under renewed strain. In a post on social media, US Central Command said that American military aircraft targeted Iranian military surveillance infrastructure, communication systems, air defense sites, drone storage facilities, and minelayer capabilities in response to an attack on a merchant vessel on Friday. US Central Command said, Iranian forces attacked the oil tanker Kiku with a one-way attack drone. The tanker was carrying more than two million barrels of crude oil while transiting the Strait of Hormuz. The US military said Iran had a chance to honor the ceasefire agreement but elected not to when its forces attacked the Kiku. Iranian state television reported explosions in an area just north of the Strait of Hormuz.

The death toll in Venezuela's earthquakes has risen to 1,430. The latest figures were released as rescuers continued the search for survivors of the one-two punch of 7.2 and 7.5 magnitude earthquakes that devastated the South American nation on Wednesday.

"Venezuela's government has said families reported at least 68,900 people missing, three days after the earthquakes devastated the South American nation. The National Assembly President Jorge Rodriguez said, tens of thousands of people are still working around the clock on search and rescue operations. Meanwhile, The Venezuelan Foundation for Seismological Research (Funvisis) reported that a 4.1 magnitude earthquake was felt across the central region of Venezuela yesterday. The state seismological agency said the epicentre of the latest tremor was located about 35 km west of La Guaira, a key port city on the country's central coast that was declared a disaster zone after sustaining extensive damage from Wednesday's two powerful earthquakes. The agency reported that the quake occurred at a shallow depth of 5 km, which typically amplifies ground shaking and increases the potential for structural damage. Seismologists continue to monitor the region closely, with the Venezuelan Foundation for Seismological Research maintaining round-the-clock surveillance. WITH RUPESH REPORT JIGYASA PANDEY, AKASHVANI NEWS, DELHI."
